

Student Hopeful Of Cooperation Among Nations

"People are much the same, whether they live in California or in Europe," stated Dick Taylor, U.S.C. student, at the United Christian Youth rally last Sunday night in the Evangelical Brethren church. Taylor represented the United Christian Youth Movement in Los Angeles, and reported on the recent World Conference of Christian Youth, held at Oslo, Norway this summer.

Preceding his talk, a song service was led by Mrs. Irene Sage, from the Evangelical Brethren church, and the Methodist Youth choir, led by Mrs. Dorothee Hodges, gave two numbers. The devotions were led by young people of the Evangelical Brethren church, Rev. Wesley Roloff in charge. A fellowship hour and refreshments completed the evening.

Lynn Branum, of the Christian church, stated that the next rally will be held November 2, and will be a choir festival, with all youth choirs uniting for a musical evening.

Rabbit Meat Nutritious

Rabbit meat is not only a delicious, but a nutritious variation to the family menu, according to Lucille Spetman, assistant home demonstration agent in Los Angeles County.

Southern Californians are fortunate that the center of the rabbit meat producing business is situated almost in their very backyards. This excellent meat made a major contribution to helping solve the meat problem during the war, and many people learned for the first time the value of rabbit meat as a variation in the diet.

Fifth and Sixth streets, between Beaudry st. and Central ave., in Los Angeles, are open only to one-way traffic.

Effective 24 hours a day, west-bound traffic between those two arteries will travel on Fifth st., and eastbound on Sixth. The changes, an effort to lessen the growing Los Angeles downtown traffic problem, have been planned for some time by traffic experts.
